

DEPARTMENT OF GENERAL SURGERY

PROGRAMME OUTCOMES:

At the end of the course, the student should be able to:

P.O.1. To acquaint the student with various diseases, which may require surgical expertise and to the history and be able to do a thorough physical examination of the patient.

P.O.2. The diseases as related to head and neck region are to be given due importance, at the same time other relevant surgical problems are also to be addressed.
--

COURSE OUTCOMES:

At the end of the course, the student would be able to:

C.O.1. A good theoretical knowledge of various ailments.
--

C.O.2. Be practically trained to differentiate benign and malignant diseases and be able to decide which patient requires further evaluation.
